4. Curriculum structure

Article 4.1 Composition of the degree programme

The programme consists of the following components:

- 24 ECTS for core courses;
- 30 ECTS for specialisation courses;
- 12 ECTS for electives*
- 12 ECTS for tutorials;
- 12 ECTS for courses offered by national research schools
- 30 ECTS for the thesis programme, of which 18 ECTS for the thesis and 12 ECTS for the Thesis Seminar and Conference.

*) Study & Research Abroad:

In addition to offering the possibility of doing a media-specific specialisation within the Media Studies Research Master's, the programme enables students to obtain 30 ECTS abroad during the second or third semester of the programme (i.e., the second semester of the first year or first semester of the second year), subject to approval by the Master's Coordinator and the Examinations Board. This can be arranged within the framework of an international exchange programme or research project. The credits thus obtained may replace any of the following: up to 12 ECTS from the MA specialisation courses, 18 ECTS for tutorials and/or electives or 12 ECTS for core courses. A core course can only be substituted by a substantially similar course at the exchange university; such a substitution must be approved in advance by the master's Coordinator. The courses dropped from the regular programme are identified in Appendix 1.

One possible exchange programme is IMACS, which enables students to spend one semester at a European partner university (in London, Paris, Lille, Liège, Milan, Udine, Barcelona, Bochum or Frankfurt).

To qualify for IMACS, another international exchange programme or a research project outside the Netherlands, students should register their interest with the Master's Coordinator at the start of the two-year programme. Next, they should write a plan covering the semester to be spent abroad, indicating the academic activities that will together account for the 30 ECTS, including course details of any core course substitution. Subject to the Master's Coordinator's approval, the plan is submitted to the Examinations Board for final approval.

 For select tutorials excursions are mandatory and will involve compulsory additional costs (for example travel costs and/or entrance fees).
