   a) priority is given to students of the own programme for whom the course is a required programme component;
   b) priority is given to students of the own programme for whom the course is an elective programme component;
   c) in case of sufficient capacity, permission is granted to all other students of the Graduate School of Communication
   d) in case of sufficient capacity, permission is granted to those students who meet the entry requirements for the course

In case of insufficient capacity students [and PhDs] will be placed on a waiting list, with due observance of the above priority rules.

Article B.4.6 Further conditions concerning registering for examinations

A student must register for all parts of a unit of study in order to be registered for an (interim) examination. The student will be registered for the (interim) examination within the education period and for the first re-sit of the education unit. The student may not be allowed to participate in the (interim) examination if he or she does not register for (all parts of) the unit of study or fails to do so in time.

Article B.4.7 Further conditions for examinations and interim examinations

The following further conditions apply with regard to examination opportunities:

1. (Interim) examinations are carried out during the unit of study to determine the student’s academic skills and verify whether the student is attaining the specified learning goals adequately.

2. In the case of interim examinations, the examiner determines the result (= grade) of the interim examination at least 7 calendar days before the next interim examination, provided that the interim examinations assess the same learning outcomes.

3. For every unit of study, the student has one opportunity to re-sit the test during the 12-month period starting when the educational programme preparing a student for the examination begins. The first testing opportunity falls within the educational period during which that unit is offered; the first opportunity to re-sit is offered before the 1st of August of the academic year in which the unit is offered. For testing methods other than examinations, the re-sit regulation and re-sit dates and/or deadlines are given in the module guide of the relevant course.

4. When the examination of a course consists of several interim examinations the student will have the opportunity to re-sit every interim examination. If an interim examination consists of several examination parts (deeltoetsen) the student will not necessarily have the opportunity to re-sit every part: grades for the examination parts may compensate each other. A re-sit always covers the same material as the original interim examination.

5. In the event of a re-sit, the result of the first attempt must be announced at least 10 working days before the possible re-sit.

2. If the student is not able to attend a workgroup/practical training, he/she needs to inform the lecturer, along with the reasons for his/her absence.

3. Should the student not be able to fulfil the attendance regulations due to circumstances, the lecturer will determine, after he/she has been informed by the student about the reasons of the absence, whether and in what way the student can still fulfil attendance obligations.

4. Should the student not agree with the decision made by the lecturer as meant in paragraph 3, the student can appeal the decision at the Examinations Board.
